Hints for the month: We have Christmas Day this month with a New Moon and also a total Lunar Eclipse visible in Australia on the 11th December. We enter the month with Mercury doing its retrograde communications thing for the first half of month and turning half way through. With Mercury retrograde, your Christmas plans may get mixed up and go the wrong way, and electronics will often not work out the way you expect. The New Moon in Capricorn on the 25th is the very best time to set your intentions for directions in 2012. With Jupiter turning direct at the end of the month we go into 2012 with a zing! I wish all Insight readers a very peaceful and supportive Christmas. Happy Solstice and Yuletide.
